Time to party!

Town's ready for a host of events to celebrate Diamond Jubilee – so join in the fun!

A BUMPER long weekend of Jubilee celebrations will see flags waving at events all over town.

Haverhill Arts Centre is already in Jubilee mood, with a colourful exhibition of artwork by hundreds of children on display in its bistro until June 6.

At 11am tomorrow there will be a matinee performance of music, nostalgia and fun from the last 60 years with Neil Sands.

At 11am on Saturday, former MP Richard Spring, now Baron Risby of Haverhill, will return to the town to officiate at the re-naming of Jubilee Plaza in Ehringshausen Way.

On the same day, the Market Square will host a Jubilee Voices school concert with a massed choir from local schools at 11.30am, followed by a Jubilee Showcase with young singers and groups from 1pm.

There will also be a Jubilee jumble sale at the Arts Centre from 10am to 2pm, raising funds for St Nicholas Hospice and the Moonwalk breast cancer charity.

I HOPE you are all enjoying the wonderful weather. Unfortunately, the business climate does not appear to be as sunny. The outlook does not look too bright and for everyone across the water in Europe you could say storm clouds are gathering.

However, I am pleased to say that here in Haverhill there is still a lot of positive energy and optimism around, judging by my discussions with a number of local businesses.

I would also like to thank everyone who has complimented both CXG and the Weekly News for the Dragons' Den initiative. It seems details of the competition are moving up the echelons of the Government as not only has Matthew Hancock MP supported the initiative but we have also had an endorsement from Mark Prisk, the Minister of State for Business and Enterprise, who said: "I believe this is just the type of initiative the Government is supportive of. It shows entrepreneurial spirit is alive and well. Such initiatives generate employment opportunities which will help lead us out of the current economic difficulties. It is good to see the local MP and a business working together to interpret the 'Big Society' in the way our Prime Minister intended."

"I will be following closely the progress of the competition and would like to thank both Robin and Matthew for the time and effort they are spending on this project."

Last week I met the Employment Minister Chris Grayling, who also offered words of encouragement. Any parties interested in winning the £10,000 prize on offer to assist in starting up a business in Haverhill, please make sure you send in your application as soon as possible. If anyone requires details on how to enter the competition please do not hesitate to contact me at CXG - robin@cxggroup.co.uk or my PA - angela@cxggroup.co.uk or phone (01440) 761200.

Last month I said I would be interviewing various local leaders for the column and that my first "victim" (oops! I mean interviewee) was our local MP Matthew Hancock.

Thank you to the local businesses that provided me with some of the questions addressing our local concerns. I know Matthew found them very challenging, but also interesting, which was the idea.

I think one of the problems we have in this country is that people feel disengaged from the political

Q&A: Matthew Hancock MP

What made you choose the Conservative party? I believe in the spirit of enterprise and the free market is the most powerful force of prosperity the world has ever seen. If you doubt this you should go to China, Brazil, Indonesia or India and see how they are engaging in world economy and bringing millions of people out of poverty. Also, as a result of my personal upbringing I developed a drive and desire to support people who want to get on in life. I also believe in having support systems for the less fortunate members of society; these are deeply Conservative instincts.

Does being a close friend of George Osborne, the Chancellor, influence the economic policy? I used to work for the Chancellor but I am now a backbencher with an independent voice. I am a passionate supporter of the need to deal with our debts, and the need for us as a Government to continue to face up to the situation we inherited from the previous Government. This will avoid our children and grandchildren having to deal with debt problems they had no responsibility for.

What do you think is the Coalition's greatest achievement so far? It has to be sticking to the essential economic policy. Indeed, the most interesting thing about the dynamics of the Coalition is that there has not been an inch of 'wobble' from the Liberal Democrats, of the need to reduce the deficit. This was the foundation and continues to be the strength of the Coalition. Both parties need to be commended that despite media flack they have not deflected from their focus. The central proposition is that we must deal with our debts and this is something I strongly support.

What are the prospects for Haverhill, and how can you as our local MP have a positive impact on them? I see my job in Haverhill as bringing people together and breaking down the roadblocks to progress and getting things done. As an MP I have very few formal powers but what I can do is make sure the right people are in the room at the right time and discuss changes that are needed for the future. I think, for instance, that bringing Haverhill together as a pilot for a national scheme which brings the money under one roof instead of being spent by several bureaucracies would be a great opportunity. We need to do much more on the High Street; the town council, the borough council, the county council, landlords and retailers need to come together to make progress for the future. In terms of the development of Haverhill, the improvement of job opportunities with the Research Park and the extra housing that will go with it. My job is to represent people's views to the council which is in charge of that. Also, to try and bring people together to ensure it happens and keep pushing. I see my job as holding people's feet to the fire.

There are a lot of empty premises in local High Streets, including Haverhill - what can you do to address this?

The problem of empty shops is important. There have been a couple of attempts to do something about the High Street but they have been too narrowly focused. Turning round the High Street is a big project that needs a vision for the whole of the centre of Haverhill, around how the High Street links up with the supermarkets and the development, how we get more high-end shops in and nationally-recognised retailers.

Why are fuel prices higher in Haverhill than anywhere else in Suffolk? I am highly aware of this issue. I have conducted a survey and found they are significantly higher than in nearby towns. One reason that has been put forward is because we don't have a dual carriageway coming to Haverhill. It is further off the trunk road network for fuel to get here but that cannot possibly explain the 10 pence per litre price difference between here and Bury St Edmunds. I have written to the Office of Fair Trading about it but I did not get a very enthusiastic response so I have taken it up again. I do not see why, if there is true competition, the four petrol stations in Haverhill are always the same prices! And finally Matthew, what are your personal political ambitions?

To serve the people of Haverhill and West Suffolk.

To read much, much more from Robin's in-depth interview with Matthew Hancock, see www.haverhillweeklynews.co.uk process. People feel politicians seem to not understand the problems that the general public face, whether that be in their personal or their business lives. Our elected representatives need to work harder to reverse this situation but it is also up to us to engage with them to ensure they are constantly aware of the realities of our situation.

I would, therefore, like to thank Matthew for putting himself in the hot seat for more than two hours as I grilled him. He came across as genuinely concerned about the difficulties faced by business. He was prepared to listen to the concerns that we raised and I felt he gave the questions due consideration. It will be interesting to see if our readers feel the same.

I personally feel there is still a lack of understanding at the heart of Government with regard to the difficulties we, the business community, face when dealing with red tape, bureaucracy, planning, health and safety and employment legislation. Matthew did try to address some of these issues and, make no mistake, I will continue to voice your concerns to him with regard to these matters. I know how important it is the "shackles" are loosened to enable businesses to prosper and grow as this is the only way the country will emerge from the grip of recession.

I hope you will find the interview of interest and I welcome any feedback.

I have asked the St Edmundsbury Borough Council leader John Griffiths whether he would be the next person to participate, so if you wish to forward any questions to me, please feel free to do so.

Magnificent man in his flying machine...

BY CHRIS ELLIOT

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

WHEN John Archer was born, the skies were dominated by dirigibles, not DC-9s; Bleriot had just bumbled across the Channel in his monoplane, and the jet engine wasn't even a twinkle in Frank Whittle's eye.

And Cambridge Airport, where he took to the air last Wednesday, didn't exist.

In the century that has since elapsed, when Jumbo jets and Airbuses have roared on the scene, Mr Archer has mostly kept his feet firmly on terra firma. He has been up in one or two small aircraft, but he has never been aboard an airliner – or flown abroad.

But yesterday, as a present for his 100th birthday, the former forestry worker got the chance of a bird's eye view of one of his favourite cities, Cambridge, and the village where he has spent most of his life, Thurlow, near Haverhill.

Terry Holloway, deputy chairman of Cambridge Airport, strapped him in to the passenger seat of a Cambridge Aero Club Cessna 172 and took him up for a spin.

Mr Holloway said: "Marshall of Cambridge entered aviation in 1929, when we began teaching people to fly from our first airfield on the edge of Cambridge. John was just 17 years old at the time. Although our Aero Club does not have any definitive records, we're quite certain that John is the oldest person ever to fly in one of our aeroplanes."

John, who will become a centenarian on June 16, is linked to the airport by his grandson, Andrew Ketteringham, who works for Marshall Aerospace as an aircraft fitter.

John said: "I was born in Chiswick and my family moved up to this part of the world after the First World War. I've only been up in a small aircraft a couple of times, and I've never been in a jet, or flown abroad.

"I've been to Cambridge before, and seen the colleges, so I really wanted to see them from up above, and my own village as well.

"It was very kind of Mr Holloway to arrange for it."

Still time to back health campaign

ALMOST 2,500 signatures have been collected in just three weeks since the launch of the Weekly News' campaign, with Haverhill Town Council, to fight for better health facilities.

Councillors will be manning a market stall on Saturday and the following Saturday, to gather more names on the petition, which calls on NHS Suffolk to make adequate provision for the growing town, especially when the walk-in Crown Health Centre closes in July.

Will Austin, Haverhill town clerk, said the stall would be manned from 9am to 4pm and urged everyone to get behind the campaign.

He also supported the town's doctors in rejecting a 'paltry' sum of less than £55,000 offered by the Suffolk PCT last week, to fund extra sessions at existing surgeries for a temporary six-month period after the closure.

The closure of the centre, which has attracted more than 22,000 visits since it opened in 2009, has provoked strong protests in the town. Suffolk PCT will save £1.2m a year by closing the centre, which it said had failed in its aim of reducing visits from Haverhill patients to accident and emergency departments.

The campaign calls for the majority of the money saved to be spent on improving health facilities in Haverhill.

Meanwhile, Harmoni, which runs the out-of-hours doctors service in Suffolk, will hold a drop-in patient forum on Tuesday, June 26 between 4pm and 7pm at Newmarket's Memorial Hall. The town's out-of-hours base was axed earlier this year, when the Haverhill base also ceased to be manned on weekday evenings.

Feedback will be provided to Suffolk County Council's health scrutiny committee, which will make recommendations on the future of the county's out-of-hours service after a meeting on July 5.

NHS Suffolk will have the final say. Initial reports on the impact of the changes over a three-month trial period said a good service was still being provided.

Runners brave the heat for charity

Gruelling: runners pound the road last Sunday.

GLORIOUS sunshine greeted 66 runners and walkers who took part in a second event in aid of a kidney charity.

Following the great success of the first Jog On to Kidney Cancer in 2011, organisers were delighted that the second event last Sunday achieved even more.

The event started and finished at the White Horse Pub in Withersfield, with entrants of all abilities setting off along the Suffolk lanes.

Months of planning ensured that marshalls looked after them on the road, while drinks stations along the route supplied runners with water.

Organiser Leela Abbott, who works for the James Whale

Kidney Cancer charity, said: "Following the event, everyone was looked after by landlord Doug from the White Horse, who worked the barbecue for four hours.

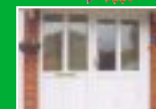

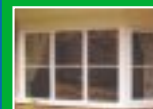

"A special thank-you has to go out to the St John Ambulance, did a wonderful job in offering advice and tending to the 'walking wounded'. Also to Dilip and Daxter Viasna from Kedington Village Stores, who supplied all the water for the event and also took part."

Plans are already being discussed for another run next year. More information about the charity can be found at www.jameswhalefund.org/page\_799.html.

Rulers to honour our ruler!

We rule: Philip Gardner from IFF with children from Year 2 at Clements School with their rulers. CP

A RULER fit for a Queen has been presented to primary school children by a town firm.

Children in the Haverhill catchment area received a Diamond Jubilee gift in the form of a historical ruler, which gives information about kings and queens from 1460 to the present day. It also commemorates the Olympics and Paralympics.

Philip Gardner, UK country manager at International Flavours & Fragrances (IFF) in Haverhill, said: "We wanted to give all primary schoolchildren something to keep from this very important year – not only for the Diamond Jubilee but also the major sporting events happening this summer."

"I have been lucky enough to visit a number of the schools receiving the rulers personally over the last few days and have been impressed by the various plans that they have to commemorate our Queen's momentous achievement".

IFF is a leading global creator of flavours and fragrances for a wide variety of sectors including fine fragrances, beauty care, detergents and household goods, beverages, confectionery and food products. Its site in Haverhill has been established for 55 years and employs 300 people.

JUBILEE spirit will be flowing next Thursday (June 7) when residents can enjoy a free Jubilee Big Picnic.

The event will take place at Chalkstone Community Centre field in Haverhill from 11am to 3pm.

Cllr Anne Gower, St Edmundsbury Borough Council cabinet member for Haverhill, said: "Last year this event was a great success and I hope that the Jubilee picnic will build on that and families will enjoy a great day out celebrating the occasion. I hope the weather is kind to us and we can all enjoy our picnics and the attractions that will be on offer".

Entertainment will be provided by a magician and activities include craft, sport and face-painting. Attractions include an inflatable slide, a four-in-one mobile bungee trampoline, a chair-o-plane ride and a trailer trampoline.

TEACHERS, pupils and families basked in the sunshine at a Jubilee picnic.

The event held in the grounds of Samuel Ward Academy in Haverhill was attended by more than 250 families of Year 7 and 8 pupils.

A variety of games and competitions were held, including a biscuit-baking contest. Jordan Hopkins won the "best biscuit fit for a Queen" among stiff competition from highly original and carefully baked and decorated biscuits.

Entertainment was provided by the school choir singing popular songs as well as sixth form buskers Will Howe and Ben Perrett. Giant Connect 4 and Jenga tournaments took place along side stalls from pupils' enterprise projects.

Putting on a show: members of the school choir entertain the visitors to Samuel Ward. 829850.

A spokesman for the school said: "It was a great success, Year 7 and 8 pupils, who were all dressed in red, white and blue had written a personal invitation to their families and many responded enthusiastically by bringing grandparents, aunts and uncles as well as small brothers and sisters.

"Parents really enjoyed the afternoon and thought the family picnic was an excellent way of ensuring they were part of the school community.

"All year 7 and 8 pupils were presented with a commemorative Diamond Jubilee coin by the School."

YOUNGSTERS on their half-term holiday can enjoy a range of Jubilee-themed activities.

■ Haverhill Leisure Centre will kick off half term with a Queen's Jubilee Open Day and a chance to try out activities for free on Saturday. The event, from 10am to 3pm, will give the children a chance to try out activities including laser blast at 11am, raft-building at 1pm and multi sports from 11am to 3pm.

■ For under-8s there will be a Disney Princess and Princes Movie Day on Monday, June 4 and Tuesday, June 5 from 10am to 4pm, when children can watch films dressed as Prince William or Princess Kate. The winners will sit on thrones at a Royal tea party on Friday, June 8.

■ On Thursday, June 7 there is a chance for children to design royal pictures and flags for a tea party in an art session from 11am to noon.

■ On Friday, the half-term holiday culminates with a royal tea party at Kid City from 2pm to 4pm, where children can attend dressed in red, white and blue.

■ For children aged 8 to 14 there's a chance to try out a new raft-building activity on Thursday, June 7 from 10am to 11am. Children will build a raft and then race it to see how well it floats. There is also swimming, team sports, football, basketball, laser blast, squash, and racket sports including tennis on offer at the centre's popular holiday camps for children, every day from Wednesday, June 6 to Friday, June 8 from 9am to 5pm. Children can take part in the camps for a morning or afternoon, a whole day or even the three-day week, with lots of different activities to choose from each day and a range of indoor activities for adverse weather conditions.

■ Bookings must be made in advance at the leisure centre or by calling (01440) 702548 or online at www.acleisure.com.

Haverhill Drama Festival

HOME talent won through as one group won six of the 10 categories at Haverhill Drama Festival.

Haverhill-based drama group Centre Stage Company dominated the awards on the final night of the 2012 festival, with the adult company taking home best play for their production of Hanging About for 2059. They also scooped best Director for Chris Hart, best actress – awarded jointly to Becca Neal and Denise Clayden – while author David Hart won the award for best new play.

Hanging About for 2059, a play about two female pantomime stars waiting for their chance to perform the lead roles in Samuel Beckett's Waiting for Godot, received its premiere in Haverhill on Friday night to a rapturous reception. The Youth Section won the Don Mackay Adjudicators Award for their teamwork and endeavour on their production of The Exam plus best cameo for Cian Harriss in the role of a dead dad.

Mr Hart said: "We are delighted that the play did so well and that the audience enjoyed it despite its challenging subject matter. Personally it was so exciting to see one's ideas brought to life on a stage so successfully by such a capable cast".

Centre Stage Company's Jim Morgan said: "The committee and I are absolutely delighted that our youth section play and senior group play were nominated in eight of the 10 categories available, winning six of these outright. We feel that this is a great achievement by all concerned from our group and are already planning our defence of these titles for next year's Haverhill Drama Festival."

The festival ran over five nights and included 70 actors taking part in 10 plays in more than seven hours of drama. Organiser Nick Keeble was delighted with how the week went. "At a time when some festivals are closing or struggling for entries, we were delighted to be able to programme a full week of good-quality drama."

Other awards were won by BAWDS from Cambridge, who were runners-up with their rumbustious production of Falstaff's Folly adapted from Shakespeare by Richard Peroni. The company also won the Frances MacGechan Memorial Star for stage presentation and Richard Sockett was presented with best actor for his portrayal of Sir John Falstaff. The Alan Smith Youth Award was won by Sawston Dramawise for their adaptation of A Midsummer Night's Dream directed by Frances Brownlie.

Castle Manor

FAMILIES got together to enjoy an evening of activities on World Book Night.

The personalised learning centre at Castle Manor Business and Enterprise College in Haverhill played host to 25 local families, invited as part of the national strategy to encourage a love of reading with the local community. Castle Manor decided this year to focus on reading as a family and invited the pupils from schools across its group.

Pupils came with their families from Castle Manor, Place Farm, Burton End and Clements schools to enjoy an evening of activities, quizzes and a book trail.

At the end of the evening the pupils were able take copies of the three books on offer to share at home. The three books chosen were The Take by Martina Cole, The Alchemist by Paulo Coelho and A Tale of Two Cities by Charles Dickens.

Krystal Vittles, personalised learning centre Manager at the Castle Partnership, said: "All families had a fantastic evening."

"I've already had excellent feedback about the evening and some good reviews from pupils about the books they've been reading with their families."

Kedington

TEENAGERS and younger girls can bid to be crowned Miss Meadowlark at a disco tomorrow.

Miss Meadowlark will lead the procession at the annual Kedington Meadowlark on Saturday, June 16, accompanied by her two attendants. Girls aged between 9 and 15 who live in Kedington can join in the competition, which will be held during a disco at Kedington Community Centre starting at 7pm.

Other youngsters within the age range are invited along to join in the festivities and support their favourite candidate in the competition. Sally Hollis, wife of Kedington rector Derek Hollis, will head the judging panel, joined by staff from the village stores and butchers. Girls can enter on the night or get an application form from the post office.

MEMORIES

■ THIS week's picture, taken from our archives, shows a crowd of people watching something. Do you recognise anyone in the picture or know what the event was? Do you know where and when it was taken? Send your answers to: Memories, Haverhill Weekly News, 4 Queen Street, Haverhill, CB9 9EF by Tuesday morning, or email editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

Last week's Memories photograph, from our archives, prompted a response from Charlie Hughes, who emailed to say: "Just seen the picture in the paper – it was taken because the lollipop lady was retiring (I think)."

"The three boys are (left to right): Gary Bilton, me (Charlie Hughes) and Neil Hamed. We were at Parkway together so would have been around 1993... thanks for the memory!"

Charlie was just a few weeks out on the year – according to our archives, the picture of Lil Price with the pupils was taken in December 1992.

Students discover the golden touch

STUDENTS with disabilities came home with a haul of 17 medals from an athletics event.

A group of students from West Suffolk College took part in the Nationwide Eastern Region Disability Athletics Championship in Chelmsford, with lecturer Duncan Davies and senior learning support assistant Julie Wood taking along a group of eight students with disabilities.

Students taking part included Toby Cook from Haverhill, who won five gold medals, as well as Jade Underhill and Jonathan Gray, from Newmarket.

Mr Davies said: "There were some wonderful performances and a total of 17 medals were won in all."

Appeal after girl is followed to school

POLICE are calling for information after a teenage girl was followed to school by a man who approached her on a bus.

Officers want witnesses to come forward after the 15-year-old was approached by a man in his 20s or early 30s.

He first came up to the girl on the number 14 bus from Bury to Haverhill around six weeks ago and told her she was pretty. The next week, he sat next to her on the empty bus.

Since then he has got off the bus with the girl and followed her to school, although he has never made any sexual references or tried to touch her.

The man is described as tall and slim with black thinning hair. He always wears a black leather jacket and has stubble.

He usually gets on the bus opposite Stars and Jars at Stradishall and gets off at Haverhill bus station.

Calls can be made to PC Robert Bryan on 101, or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Academy partners looking to future

One vision: pupils from Place Farm Primary Academy and Castle Manor Academy.

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

“Long term, we would like to ensure that the whole community benefits from the space we have on our site. Our vision is for a brand new, 21st-century educational facility that Haverhill and the surrounding villages are proud of.”

Place Farm Primary Academy will be the first primary-phase academy in the area and is keen to use the opportunity to extend the good work the partnership has been doing.

Delyth Reed, head of school at Place Farm, said: “We’re able to make the best use of facilities and resources across the academies. The Key Stage 2 pupils regularly go to Castle Manor to use facilities and the ability to share teaching and leadership skills is a real advantage. This approach helps to encourage a family-like feeling among pupils across the schools.”

The long-term vision is to relocate to the extensive Castle Manor site and provide a pioneering all-through school on one site.

Castle Manor Academy will be hosting an open evening on Tuesday, June 26, which is aimed at parents of Year 4 and 5 pupils, but that will be open to the wider community.

Team steps out at arson estate

A TEAM involving police, fire officers and council representatives has set out to tackle arson attacks in Haverhill.

Residents on the Clements Estate and nearby roads got to meet the group and air their concerns after a spate of fires involving cars and wheelie bins.

Suffolk County Council has agreed to a police request to switch street lights on the estate back on for a temporary period from midnight to 5.30am, to reassure residents.

Last Friday's walkabout was organised by Havebury, the affordable housing provider.

Havebury chief executive Karen Mayhew said: "Parts of the Clements Estate have suffered from arson attacks this year. As a result, we wanted to work together with the fire service, police and borough council to discuss this with residents among any other concerns they may have."

"As well as talking to as many local people as we can, we also collected rubbish, carried out home fire safety checks and helped with minor home repairs. We ran a similar event at Anselm Avenue in Bury St Edmunds earlier this year which proved to be very popular with residents."

Views were sought from residents in Buckingham Road, Clarendon Road, Cornwallis Road, Gloucester Road and Harewood Terrace.

Cllr Tim Marks, Mayor of St Edmundsbury and borough councillor for Haverhill, said: "I am very supportive of this approach and pleased to have been involved in its planning."

Healthy message goes out with youngsters' fruit appeal

CHILDREN at a pre-school group got some tasty treats as they tried lots of different flavours on Fruity Friday.

Youngsters attending Stepping Stones Under 5s pre-school in Haverhill joined in the event as part of a schools initiative to promote healthy foods, in accordance with the World Cancer Research Fund's national campaign.

Tesco in Haverhill

provided a large selection of fruits such as strawberries, blueberries, raspberries as well as some exotic fruits like pineapples and kiwi.

Elaine McManus, manager of Stepping Stones, said: "The day went very well and some of the children got to taste some fruits they had not tried before."

The national recommendation is that everyone should eat five portions of fruit or vegetables per day in order to maintain a healthy balanced diet. Statistics show that currently in the UK an average children get only three of their recommended five a day, and adults just four portions. Fruity Friday is a campaign that encourages people to have "just one more".

Contact Elaine McManus for details on Stepping Stones on (01440) 703833.

Knife-threat man is sent to prison

A HOMELESS man who went to another man's flat and threatened him with a craft knife blade has been jailed for five months.

Robert Boreham, 20, of no fixed address – he gave a postal address of Ufford Court, Haverhill – appeared at Bury St Edmunds Magistrates' Court.

He admitted charges of having a bladed article with him in a public place and using threatening behaviour in Clare.

District Judge Celia Dawson said although she gave him credit for his guilty pleas, he had gone to the man's house and pulled out a weapon to threaten him.

She sentenced him to five months' imprisonment for having the bladed item and four

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

months for threatening behaviour, to be served concurrently, with half of the sentence to be served in prison and the remainder in the community.

Ros Keppleman, prosecuting, said there had been a history of bad feeling between Boreham and Ryan Grimley, the man he visited in Clare, who had also been charged with the same offence.

After Boreham went into the flat with the blade, Grimley produced a meat cleaver and a garden scythe, as the disagreement spilled out on to the street.

Boreham had seven previous convictions for 11 offences, the last in September 2011 for production of cannabis.

Nick Wray, for Boreham, said his client kept the blade in his pocket for use in gardening work and had not deliberately taken it to Clare to threaten Grimley with it.

He had gone to the flat to visit another tenant, but accepted that he had got involved in an altercation in front of other people.

Mr Wray said: "He is here today because he cannot give a fixed address. He has health concerns and his mother had had a phone call from the police saying that he needs tests for TB."

"He would welcome some intervention from the probation service. He lives from hand to mouth as he had not signed on for benefits, but has kept out of trouble for a couple of years."

Golfers chip in for Alzheimer's Society

MEMBERS of Haverhill Golf Club raised more than £1,100 for the Alzheimer's Society.

They supported 2011 captain Keith Brown's effort for his chosen charity and a cheque presentation was made at the golf club to local Alzheimer's Society manager, Jade Rolph.

Jade said: "Although fundraising is fun it can also be very hard work, and Haverhill Golf Club should be very proud that they have raised a staggering £1,141.67. The Alzheimer's Society is honoured to have been chosen as the beneficiary of their efforts. Without the fundraising efforts of groups like Haverhill Golf Club we would be unable to continue our vital work."

The society is the leading care and research charity for people with dementia and their carers. It provides support and information, campaign for fairer treatment, and investment in research into the cause, cure and care of people with dementia.

To raise funds during his year as captain, Keith, now vice president of the club, was inspired by a previous captain who years ago put a jar on the bar in the clubhouse and asked that if members went into the bunker on the par-three second hole, they put some spare coins in the jar. It then became known as the Captain's Bunker and raised cash money for good causes.

Keith said: "I just built on that theme and sold an annual season ticket for £5. The certificate was a grand affair designed by our manager Karen Wilby, then signed by both the ladies' captain Marian Mercer and myself – the certificate title was 'You have been bunkered'."

Each year Haverhill Golf Club hosts events to help raise money for good causes, including the Help for Heroes golf competition on Sunday.

On Saturday, September 8 the club, together with Haverhill & District Rotary Club, will be hosting the Charity Classic to raise funds for St Nicholas Hospice, East Anglian Air Ambulance and Rotary Charities.

See England on the big screen

FAMILIES can enjoy watching England's football matches in this summer's European championships on the big screen for free.

Haverhill Arts Centre is due to host free family-friendly footie as Euro 2012 kicks off, screening the England qualifying games on the big cinema screen.

Arts and leisure manager Nick Keeble said: "This is the perfect way for families to enjoy the football together – the size of the screen means that all the action can be seen in great detail, the seats are comfy and the bar and tuck shop will be open for drinks and snacks. If England get through to the next round we will look at showing those games too."

Tickets are free and can be booked in advance through the Arts Centre box office on 01440 714140

The games to be shown are: Monday, June 11 – 5pm, England v France, Friday, June 15 – 5pm England v Sweden and Tuesday, June 19 – 7.45pm England v Ukraine.

Fluff

Jack

Purr-suasive pleas

IF you've got room in your life for a furry friend, these kitties would love to hear from you:

FLUFF

Fluff is a pretty 4 or 5 year-old black and white female who is a little shy to begin with, but friendly once she gets to know you. She would prefer a home without other cats or dogs or small children.

JACK

Jack is a young male who had been stray for a long time. He had not been neutered and was desperately looking for food. He needs a home with people who really understand cats.

TIGER LILY

Tiger is a very pretty torty female about 2 years old.

She is most affectionate and can be picked up and cuddled. She loves to play with her toys and would make someone with no children or older children a lovely companion.

WILLOW and BEAU

Willow and her sister Beau are only about 6 months old. They are a little timid and not used to going outside much. While they are not indoor cats they would benefit from staying indoors for a while until they are a little bigger. They came from a home without children.

■ For more information on these cats and many others, call 08453 719599, visit www.stourvalley.cats.org.uk or email contactscats@aol.com.

Our animals help us in so many ways

WHAT could be more British than a super-cute dog winning a talent show?

Pudsey, the dancing dog, and his owner, Ashleigh Butler, scooped up 39 per cent of the vote on ITV's Britain's Got Talent, soundly beating a host of other more conventional acts.

And in a script worthy of Hollywood, the humble mutt – he's a mix of breeds including border collie, bichon frise and Chinese crested powder puff – will now travel by private jet to America to talk film deals.

It's a heart-warming shaggy dog story and highlights our love affair with pets.

"It's widely recognised that pets, commonly cats and dogs, not only have an extraordinary empathy with their owners but also can have positive effects on our wellbeing and health," says Emma Milne, one of the vets from BBC's Vets In Practice series, and a judge in the Give Your Dog A Bone competition, run by worming product manufacturer Drontal.

The contest aims to find the most interesting, heroic, loveable or entertaining dogs in the UK.

"As a vet I've seen people who've suffered so many blows in life and their ownership of a dog has come to their rescue and helped them turn their lives around," says Milne.

"There are so many anecdotes of pets who sense their owners are in trouble, ill and need help and in some cases can alert people to their owner's problems.

"I think it shows that whatever we give to our pets is amply returned in terms of love, affection and loyalty.

"Also, caring for another creature boosts our wellbeing and if you help exercise them as well – such as walking dogs or riding horses – that can only be beneficial for health."

Pure Hollywood: Ashleigh Butler and Pudsey.

Samm makes up for lost time after beating bottle

Sober reflection: Samm Veevers has damaged her liver after years of drinking.

SLOWLY opening her eyes, lids still heavy with sleep, Samm Veevers felt totally disorientated. Her head was throbbing, her throat was dry, and her face was lying in a puddle of something sticky; gradually coming to, she realised she was flat-out on the kitchen floor – lying in a pool of her own blood.

"I'd passed out in the kitchen and hit my head on the way down. I'd been unconscious for God knows how long; I didn't even know I'd hit my head until I came round and saw the blood – it turned out I had a massive gash on my scalp.

"I regularly collapsed at home. On one occasion I fell unconscious and didn't come round for two weeks: my organs had gone into shutdown and I'd slipped into a coma.

"Crazily, I carried on drinking regardless. It was all about the bottle. I'd wake up in the morning and just drink whatever alcohol was left ... I'd drink until I ran out of booze, basically."

BY ALICE RYAN

Email: weeklies@cambridge-news.co.uk

Before she quit the bottle – on September 23, 2010, a date now etched into her memory – Samm was drinking upwards of a litre of vodka a day, mixed with wine, beer, cider – whatever she could lay her hands on.

"I was a mess," admits the 45-year-old. "I had a serious drinking problem for about six years and the last two of those were spent mostly on the sofa.

"I'd have these binges which went on for about 10 days at a time. I'd only leave the house to get alcohol: I became a total recluse.

"My daughter, who was 15 at the time, brought her new boyfriend round to meet me and found me naked and unconscious, body on the sofa and head on the floor.

"I look back and can't believe I put my family through that. But at the time I couldn't see the bigger picture: I was just drinking to blot out the pain."

To see Samm today, after more than 18 months of sobriety, it's clear the mum-of-three has come a very long way. Flamboyantly dressed, with a flower in her hair, she's vibrant, funny, full of confidence and a joy to be around: the minute she walks into a room, everyone smiles.

Tragically, though she now doesn't touch alcohol, Samm is suffering severe cirrhosis of the liver. "The consultant told me that, if I drank, I'd have about a year; if I didn't drink, I'd have about five years," explains the 45-year-old.

"I got home, went to see my neighbour and said 'Does that mean I'm going to die?' ... I just couldn't process it to begin with.

"When it did hit me, it was a real smack in the face: to have come through all that and then be told 'You're going to die anyway' was hard to take.

"Does it make me angry? Yes, I suppose it does – angry with myself.

"But I still feel really positive about the future: I'm determined to live life to the full. I'm concentrating on making special memories for my kids."

Samm explains she has decided to tell her story for two reasons. "I'm living proof that there is life beyond the bottle: if one single person reads this and decides to address their own drinking problem, I'd be so happy.

"And I also want to raise awareness of Cambridge Re-use. It's an amazing charity and, to be quite honest, I'm not sure I would have stayed off the booze without it."

Formerly known as Cambridge Sofa, the organisation takes donations of unwanted furniture and other household goods from the general public, then sells them on to low-income families for bargain prices. Based just outside the city centre, off Cherry Hinton Road, the charity also offers volunteering opportunities to people from all backgrounds, from retired professionals to the long-term unemployed and those with mental health and learning difficulties.

"It's a very special organisation," says Samm. "I first came here as a customer, then I started to volunteer one day a week, then two days, then three days ... It gave me a reason to get out of the house, and everyone here was so nice; they made me feel very welcome. I can honestly say Cambridge Re-use has changed my life."

What is Cambridge Re-use?

A REGISTERED charity, Cambridge Re-use collects unwanted furniture, homeware and appliances and sells it on to low-income families at bargain prices. The service is open to anyone living on benefits, single people whose total income is under £16,000 and couples whose combined income is below £21,000; to register, all you have to do is visit Re-use HQ, off Cherry Hinton Road in Cambridge, taking proof of income with you. The charity – formerly known as Cambridge Sofa – also offers valuable volunteering opportunities: at present, it has a 30-strong team of volunteers. Cambridge Re-use is currently in desperate need of donations of good quality beds, chairs, sofas, dining sets, linens, accessories, kitchenware and appliances. The team is happy to collect within a 20-mile radius of Cambridge city centre. On average, 1,100 people make a donation each year – with some 1,400 people benefiting from the service.

● To make a donation call (01223) 576535 or email donate@cambridgereuse.org.uk

Case history

Paul Fuller was diagnosed as bipolar 20 years ago. After 15 years spent going in and out of hospital, he was put in touch with Cambridge Re-use by a care worker. Paul, 49, has been a volunteer van driver for the charity ever since, and says it gives him a sense of purpose

"I was a full-time driver before I fell ill. But I was in and out of hospital for years – I was in there for four, five, six months at a time – so I wasn't able to work.

Samm says she started drinking socially but then, after losing her father, her job and her marriage one after the other, began to use alcohol as a way of blocking out her feelings.

"It felt like everything had fallen apart. The drinking started with one or two glasses in the evening to help me relax and get to sleep, then escalated from there."

Samm and her family moved to Cambridge for a fresh start. "My husband and I had decided to give things another go. We actually tried a third reconciliation after that, but I was drinking heavily by then – and the drink won."

Samm's husband took custody of all three of their children: Ben, now 21, Hannah, 17, and Tim, 15. "That was like having my arms chopped off. I was born to be a mum. I never wanted to be a career woman: all I'd ever wanted was a family."

Daughter Hannah remained a regular visitor throughout her mum's battle with the booze. A photo she took – of her mother unconscious, an empty vodka bottle clutched to her chest – helped set Samm on the road to recovery; it was, she admits, 'horrible' to see herself like that.

"It came to a head when I got a terrible chest infection. I was so poorly I couldn't even leave the house to get alcohol. One morning I woke up, felt a bit better and, for some reason, went to Cambridge Re-use.

"I asked to see the manager – only to be told that he'd died. He went home on a Friday night, hadn't been seen for a week and then was found dead in his flat. That was a real epiphany: I thought 'That could have been me – and my daughter would have been the one to find me.'"

Samm hasn't had a drink since. Going through withdrawal was hellish: "I was so weak I had to crawl to the toilet. And the hallucinations were terrifying: I saw aliens; I thought people were living in my house, that my children had been abducted..."

After breaking the physical addiction, Samm underwent counselling to help her deal with her emotional issues. She also went to the doctor for the first time in years. Having suffered a bone-wasting disease as a child, known as Perthes, Samm has been left with damaged hips and has endured 50 separate surgeries over her lifetime. She now uses a frame to walk and, even then, struggles to go far.

"I'd stopped going to hospital appointments because I'd stopped caring," says Samm. "It turned out things were worse than I realised: I'm now on morphine and codeine to control the pain."

Until Samm undergoes more surgery and gets her medication levels down, she is not eligible to join the organ donor register for a new liver – her only hope of surviving the cirrhosis. "That's now my focus: I go

"The last time I came out of hospital my care worker suggested I come to Cambridge Sofa, as it was then, and volunteer.

"Everyone was really friendly and I found I really enjoyed the work: no matter how bad you're feeling, if you make a delivery to someone and it makes their day, seeing them happy makes you feel better. Volunteering here gives me something to look forward to two or three days a week; it gives me a sense of purpose."

to every single appointment, every single blood test, without fail. I'm going to do everything I can."

After Samm gave up drinking, Hannah moved back in and she now has shared custody of Tim. A keen baker, she has also set up her own novelty cake business, Samm's Edible Art ([www.facebook.com/sammse edibleart](http://www.facebook.com/sammse edibleart)).

Hannah recently wrote Samm a letter, telling her how proud she is of her sobriety – and how much she loves her. "That made me cry," admits Samm. "I've had so much support from my kids; from my mother-in-law and father-in-law, who've been amazing; from my friends; from everyone at Cambridge Re-use. My advice to anyone is 'Don't be alone'. The bottle needs to be replaced by something."

"The house is always full of kids now, which is how I like it," Samm continues. "I want to give them as many happy memories as possible: I'm taking them away to Norfolk in the summer, and I'd love to take them abroad too, even if it's only for a long weekend."

"I do have a 'bucket list,'" adds Sam, with a wry smile. "I'd like to meet Gordon Ramsay – I love him! – and swim with dolphins and fly in a hot air balloon... But most of all I want to spend time with my family; make up for lost time."

"While I was drinking I lost myself. But now I'm back – and I'm here to stay."

Strawberry Fair forever

CAMBRIDGE'S independent festival of music, film, food, arts and culture returns to Midsummer Common – and this year it's got its sights on setting a world record.

This year, Strawberry Fair will be aiming to gain a place in the Guinness Book of World Records by gathering together the largest number of fairies in one place – ever. So if you're planning to head down on Saturday, remember to fairy-up and be counted! The record attempt will take place at 3.30pm on the 'Village Green' area, where the new Strawberry Fairy Queen and King, Princess and Prince will also be crowned. Wands, wings and tutus will be available to buy on site, but feel free to add your own fairy flavour by bringing along something of your own.

Fairies aside, there'll be plenty more going on throughout the weekend. A new stage has been created for young emerging artists to perform their work, be it poetry, music or street acts. Called the Strawberry Slam Stage, it will also host the first ever 'poetry slam' competition for young people. And for younger children, head over to the Competition, will be on stage as will others from this year's final and heats. Plus there'll be musicians performing all day across the seven music stages.

The Strawberry Shorts film festival will also be in situ, kicking off with a red carpet launch on Friday – so dress to impress.

It takes place at the Festival Theatre – a hidden, Georgian gem of a theatre on Newmarket Road which is worth seeing just in itself.

An abundance of old-school fun will also be taking place on the Village Green where fair-goers can drop into the Kings Head for a bit of karaoke or a touch of speed-dating.

From your seat on the Green, you can enjoy watching the wackiest 'Olympiads' in Cambridge battle it out in It's a Knockout.

The Mad Hatter's Café will offer lashings of smooth musical vibes interspersed with extra portions of upfront poetry – all accompanied by a nice cup of tea and a tasty fair-trade cake.

■ Strawberry Fair, Midsummer Common, Saturday June 2. Free entry. See: www.strawberry-fair.org.uk for details.

Wigwag for Strawberry's Got Talent!

As always, music infuses every corner of the fair with seven stages of live bands and DJs. Grace Sarah, winner of the Cambridge Band

MAKE A WISH: Fairies will be lining up to set a new world record on Saturday – so why not don your wings and join them. Inset left, circus performers will be adding to the big occasion.

Folk talent to shine at concerts

THIS bank holiday Monday, Cambridge Folk Club is holding a Folk Day in Cambridge, showcasing some of the best local and national folk musicians. There will be three concerts: two at The Golden Hind and one on the Green Stage at the Jubilee Fun Day at the Histon and Impington Recreation Ground. This will include a chance to get up on stage yourself at the Open Mic event, as well as enjoying music by Cambridge Crofters, Inlay, The Ouse Brothers and more.

The free afternoon concert at The Golden Hind will see Fred's House, Dan Wilde and Wychazle perform, among others.

Headlining the Golden Hind's evening concert will be Christine Collister, praised by Q Magazine as having "one of the world's finest female voices". With a career spanning 26 years, Christine has worked with musicians including Peter Frampton and Richard Thompson, and is known for her unique blend of soul, blues, pop, jazz, country and folk. She will be joined on stage by talented musician Rob Cross.

Support will come from Emma Black, Tony Clark and Karen Johnson.

■ Cambridge Folk Club: Folk Day, The Golden Hind, Milton Road, June 4 from 1pm to 6pm (free) and 7.30pm-11pm (from £10). Also at Histon and Impington, 1pm-6pm. Contact www.cambridgefolkclub.org / (01638) 603986.

Even better than The Real Thing?

TOM Stoppard returns to metafictional methods in The Real Thing, a play within a play which explores the complexities of love, honesty and fidelity, at Cambridge Arts Theatre.

Henry, a celebrated playwright, has cast his wife Charlotte in the starring role of his new play – but reality and fiction start to blur and passions ignite and his own marriage becomes entwined with the one on stage.

Stoppard has carved himself out as one of the most acclaimed writers alive today, his back catalogue including Rosencrantz and Guildenstern Are Dead, Arcadia, Empire of the Sun and Shakespeare in Love.

Winner of the Evening Standard, New York Drama Critics' Circle and the Tony Award for Best Play, The Real Thing – lauded by The Daily Telegraph as 'a glorious play' – sees Stoppard at his witty and sparkling best.

Originally starring Felicity Kendal when it opened in 1982, this latest revival comes to us through the English Touring Theatre – the force behind March's hugely successful Anne Boleyn – and West Yorkshire Playhouse.

■ The Real Thing*, Cambridge Arts Theatre, runs until Saturday, June 2. Shows at 7.45pm. Tickets are from £15. Contact (01223) 503333 / [www.cambridgearts theatre.com](http://www.cambridgearts theatre.com).

news from

NEIL Sands and friends are back tomorrow at 11am and 2.30pm with There'll Always Be An England. Back by popular demand, Neil will entertain us with over two hours of British music, memories and humour. We still have a few tickets left for the 11am show but unfortunately the 2.30pm is sold out. Call the box office on (01440) 714140 for availability. Keeping with the Jubilee spirit, you can bring your own food for our indoor Big Jubilee Lunch street party and watch the Jubilee Regatta on the big screen on Sunday from 1pm. Tickets are £2 which includes a glass of bubbly and a piece of cake.

Albert Lee and Hogan's Heroes hit Haverhill on Thursday, June 7 at 8pm. Albert's impeccable country music and rock pedigree stretches back over more than 40 years and he has performed with many of the greats in country and rock, including Joe Cocker and Eric Clapton.

Theatre group Showbooker bring a new adaptation of Jeremy Strong's children's story I'm Telling You They're Aliens! on Friday, June 8. Rob is an eccentric and wildly imaginative boy who worries about everything. So when the Vorks move in across the road, he is convinced they are from outer space. The family fun starts at 2pm.

The big film

PROMETHEUS (3D & 2D)

Certificate 15, 2h04m

IT is more than 30 years since Ridley Scott proved that in space, everyone can hear you scream – loudly.

Now, in what is one of the most hotly anticipated releases of the year, the Oscar-nominated director returns to the science-fiction genre and the ultimate deep-space killing machine: Alien. Prometheus is a prequel of sorts, offering tantalising clues to the origins of the acid-blooded predator and the human race.

In the late 21st century, the Weyland-Yutani Corporation finances an archaeological dig led by Meredith Vickers (Charlize Theron) to uncover the secrets of an alien race known as the Engineers.

Vickers recruits astrophysicist Dr Elizabeth Shaw (Noomi Rapace), xenarchaeologist Dr Theo Zedmore (Guy Pearce) and fellow astrophysicist (Ben Foster) to lead the mission and they discover vital information plotting the location of the Engineers' home planet.

Determined to learn more about these omnipotent creatures, Vickers spearheads a mission to the far-off solar system. A spaceship called Prometheus captained by Jeremiah Janek (Idris Elba) provides the transport and Vickers bolsters the crew with top men and women in their fields including medical officer Fifield (Sean Harris) and engineer Yuri (Rafe Spall).

Operations android David 4.0 (Michael Fassbender) keeps a dispassionate eye on proceedings but as the party touches down on the Engineers' home world they are woefully unprepared for the horrors that await them and they must fight a terrifying battle to save the future of the human race.

STRIKING: Lavender is famed for its blue colouring, but it comes in a host of shades from deep purple to white

Plant lavender - you know it makes scents

FOR centuries, lavender has been used for domestic purposes in soaps, teas, herbal remedies, bath water and even in cooking.

But nowhere is it more at home than in the garden, to be admired as a low-growing hedge, fringing a herb garden or simply standing alone in pots in a contemporary setting.

Lavender hedges used to serve as a form of clothes line, as newly washed items were placed over the bushes to dry, becoming impregnated with the scent of lavender oil in the process.

And while the trademark colour of lavender is blue, it actually comes in many different hues, from deep purple to white, creating a mood of subtle sophistication while adding architecture and intense fragrance to a garden.

A native of the Mediterranean, the wonderful thing about lavender is that it will cope with exposed, sunny open positions and the healthiest plants are often those found growing in the most

by Hannah Stephenson

inhospitable position.

It's happy in not particularly fertile soil and will withstand a lot of neglect.

Lavender makes a cheaper and some would say prettier alternative to box hedging in a sunny spot in well-drained soil. Don't allow it to sit in water in the shade for any length of time or it will sulk.

It looks great as a low-growing hedge fringing front garden paths or steps, as visitors brushing against its aromatic foliage help to release its fragrance.

It will even do well in a window box, attracting honeybees seeking out the nectar and pollen.

In garden centres you're likely to come across L. angustifolia, otherwise known as common or English lavender, which grows to around 90cm (3ft), bearing mauve flower spikes.

Other common varieties include 'Hidcote', which has dark purple flowers and narrow green leaves, and 'Munstead', a paler blue type which is great for planting en masse to produce low screening.

There are many other taller versions which produce stunning displays and are a magnet for beneficial insects. The silvery foliage also provides much-needed winter colour.

If you have raised areas, as I do, it may be worth opting for a smaller variety such as Lavandula 'Little Lady' (height and spread 30cm), which produces masses of sky blue flowers all summer.

Other varieties are more tender, such as L. pinnata, also known as fern leaf lavender, which produces strong blue flowers with a hint of purple and can be treated as a bedding plant, planted in the border in late spring, which it quickly fills out to form a small foliage plant. It flowers from early summer until autumn and can be discarded once the frost kills it.

Of course, no lavender aficionado could be without French lavender, L. stoechas, with its light purple bracts on the tips of the flower spikes, which comes into its own slightly earlier than common lavender and looks brilliant in terracotta pots.

This type, however, will need shelter in a cold winter, either under a porch or in a cool, light room.

As well as needing sunshine, lavender needs good drainage and alkaline soil, so add some lime if your soil is acid, to raise the pH. Mulching around the root system will help maintain moisture levels in the soil.

To keep lavender looking good it needs pruning immediately after flowering or in early or mid-spring. Use garden shears to trim back the old flowered shoots but do not cut into old wood as it will not produce new shoots.

If you don't prune every year, the plant will become woody and unsightly and you'll need to replace it sooner rather than later.

Diamond deals!

RENAULT is helping customers celebrate the Queen's Jubilee with up to a majestic £400 off new cars combined with a comprehensive four-year car care package.

The 'Diamond Promotion' is being offered in honour of the monarch's 60 year reign, as well as to celebrate the last 60 years of Renault – from pioneering turbo-charged cars to the exciting launch of electric vehicles.

Motorists just need to visit www.renault.co.uk/jubilee before June 6 to download a diamond voucher, which will give them up to a £400 discount on new models, as well as the enticing 4+ customer care deal.

The 4+ deal offers an unbeatable four year/100,000 mile warranty, four years/48,000 miles routine servicing, four years roadside cover and four years finance (HP lease or PCP subject to status) on all new Renaults.

Renault: 4+ peace of mind for the Clio

The Renault Diamond Jubilee money-off voucher allows a £200 saving on a Clio 3-door (excluding the Renaultsport range), £300 off a Clio 5-door (excluding a Sport Tourer) and an additional £400 off a Mégane Hatch, Coupé (excluding the Renaultsport range), Sport Tourer and Coupé-Cabriolet, inclusive of VAT.

The 4+ package, with lease offers for the revamped Twingo starting from just £179 per month, will not only offer Twingo, Clio, Mégane and Scenic customers added security, fixed running costs and affordable monthly payments, but also helps improve resale value.

The four-year warranty as part of 4+ guarantees your new Renault against any defect relating to material, fitting or manufacturing fault for 48 months or 100,000 miles, whichever comes first. It also covers any damage to the vehicle resulting from the defect.

The 4+ deal also gives customers up to four free services during the first four years of ownership, or first 48,000 miles (80,000 miles for vans). That covers everything required in a standard service, including parts, labour and VAT, but excluding normal wear-and-tear items, such as brake pads, windscreen wipers or tyres.

Customers can also benefit from four years' AA roadside cover.

For more information and terms and conditions visit www.renault.co.uk/jubilee.

Stearn pounces to lift Thurlow

THURLOW went into the summer break with victory in the under-15 final at the Spartak tournament.

They looked impressive from the opening kick off, starting with a 1-0 win against Saffron Walden, courtesy of Jordan Ryan's goal.

A goalless draw against Melbourn Dynamos followed – a game marked by Ryan putting the ball in the net a fraction of a second after the referee blew for half time – but a 2-0 win over Newmarket Whites secured their place in the final against Aztec Juniors, who had previously held Thurlow to a 1-1 draw in the league stage.

The final was as tight as the earlier game, with Luke Stearn scoring the decisive goal with a cool finish.

■ West Wrattling reached the final of the under-16 section at the Spartak tournament after progressing from a very strong group, featuring six Cambridge and District Colts League A division sides and the Soham Town elite team.

They finished joint-top after beating Soham and Huntington Rowdies, with score draws against Arbury and Spartak B.

However, Tom Pinker, who scored two goals in the group – Jack Whiting and Dan Espin got the others – was taken to hospital after suffering a nasty shoulder injury in the semi-final against Spartak B.

Wrattling shrugged off that disappointment to win 5-0 – goals from Harry Willett 2, Whiting, Sam Langham and Sam Ager – but they were out of luck in the final when Spartak A got an early goal and then survived severe pressure to clinch victory.

Angling

Porter edges it

JUST an ounce separated winner and runner-up in Haverhill's open on the Flood Park.

Danny Porter, who ran out of groundbait with an hour of the match to go, took top spot after landing 13lb 12oz using a whip close in on the Sainsbury bank.

Glen Carter, fishing the car park end on the pole, had to settle for second place after weighing in 13-11, while Nigel Loker was third (9-3) on a difficult day with the fish starting to spawn.

There were no such problems for the competitors in the Thursday night summer series on Wilf Gardner's lakes in Clare. More than 170lb of carp were netted in the three-hour match, Glen Massie banking seven carp on Long Pond and losing just as many. Among his 39-12 haul, taken on the method feeder, was a 13lb carp, which on its own almost beat runner-up Dave Spencer, who had 16-2, while Richard Massie was third with 15-7 on the pole.

The next evening match is at Cable Pond tonight, with the venue also staging the next club match a week on Sunday (draw 9am, fish 10-4pm).

The next open is on June 24. Further information from Dave Spencer (01440 702560) or www.haverhillanglingclub.net

Tennis

Mixed fortunes

THE Haverhill club's mixed team beat Wickham Bishops 6-3 in their recent match. The pairings of Marcia Armstrong and Ian Terry, Abi Cartwright-Thomas and Ross Tobin, and Joan Ford and Jake Warner each won two sets.

However, the men's B team have had a fairly miserable month, winning one of their four matches.

Victory came at Essex D (6-3) but they lost at home to Wickham Bishops B (5-4), at Heddingham (6-3), and home to Earls Colne B (6-3).

■ The club are looking for more women players. Anyone interested is invited to play on Tuesday or Thursday evenings.

Awesome foursomes set up win

A DEVASTATING foursomes return in the morning helped Haverhill ladies to a commanding win in the preliminary round of the Cranworth against Ipswich (Purdis) at Halesworth.

They stormed to a 14½-½ lead at the break before romping to a 35½-9½ victory and a first round clash against Newton Green on June 28.

Details - Foursomes (Haverhill ladies first): Lyn Fish & Catie Heathfield bt Chrissy Grainger & Angela Key 5-0, Marion Kendall & Gerry Wheatley bt Margaret Russell & Jean Tibble 4½-½, Marian Mercer & Sally Price bt Liz Henderson & Carole Hayward 5-0.

Singles: Lyn Fish 4½ Angela Key ½, Marion Kendall 2½ Margaret Russell 2½, Gerry Wheatley 0 Chrissy Grainger 5, Catie Heathfield 4 Jean Tibble 1, Marian Mercer 5 Liz Henderson 0, Sally Price 5 Carole Hayward 0.

■ Ryan Greenwood racked up an impressive 45 points to win the men's IFF Challenge and has had his handicap slashed four shots to 20.

Division One: 1 Dennis Harkness 37pts, 2 Neil Farlie 34, 3 Ted Fairhead 34. Division Two: 1 Simon Cousins 36pts, 2 Frank Robertson 36, 3 Mark Wells 35pts. Division Three: 1 Ryan Greenwood 45pts, 2 Ian Raper 38, 3 Graham Hepworth 33.

■ Trevor Broomfield will partner Haverhill's head professional Paul Wilby in the regional final of the National Pro-Am at King's Lynn after winning the first leg of the Cecil Darken Cup, which doubled as the pro-am qualifier.

Results - Division One: 1 Peter Garner 77-10-67, 2 Michael Bennett 82-12-70, 3 Bob Spittle 78-8-70. Division Two: 1 Trevor Broomfield 79-14-65, 2 Dave Nicholas 87-19-68, 3 Peter Bowers 82-13-69. Division Three: 1 Mark Wray 90-21-69, 2 John Annand 92-21-71 on countback from 3 Lawrence Drysdale 98-27-71.

■ Haverhill were beaten at Rookery Park in the first rounds of both the Stenson and Stearn competitions.

The men's Stenson team lost 9-3 to strong opposition, while the women's Stearn team were beaten 2-1 in a close tie.

Martial arts: White leads the up-grade

SEVEN years of hard work have paid off for Daniel White, a member of the Haverhill Tang Soo Do Korean Martial Arts club.

The Cambridge-based student was awarded his 1st Dan black belt certificate, his black belt and Dan Grade suit at the May grading exams in St Ives after passing his tests at the previous grading.

Four other Haverhill students were upgraded to yellow belts after training hard on their on their forms (Hyungs), fighting (Dae Ryun) and self-defence (Ho Sin Sul).

■ Anyone interested in trying out the traditional Korean martial art of self-defence is invited to the Leiston Community Association Hall on Leiston Road, Haverhill from 7pm to 9pm. The first lesson is free with potential students urged to bring loose clothing and water.

■ Above – the successful members line up with their Haverhill Tang Soo Do clubmates.

Snooker: Snooker and Bowl pot trophy

HAVERHILL Snooker and Bowl came out on top in an all-Haverhill final of the NCI Cup in Cambridge. They beat Haverhill Ex-Servicemen's Club 6-4 after a close final which could have gone either way. In the end a typical captain's effort from Dave Whiting, who won both his games, turned the tie Snooker and Bowl's way. Tony Shepperd also won twice with Brian and Craig Williams, and John Vale lending valuable support.

Now the nation's playing catch-up . . .

MAJOR changes to youth football passed by the Football Association's membership will help bring the rest of the country up to speed with Cambridgeshire.

The county has been one of the leading lights in developing the game at a junior level, and many of the plans that were ratified by 87 per cent of the FA's shareholders are already implemented.

The major changes which will affect the Cambridgeshire Mini Soccer League and the Cambridge & District Colts League – which feature several teams from the Haverhill area – will involve five v five being the mandatory format for football at under-seven and under-eight. And the move will also bring in a more child-friendly approach to competition, breaking up the eight-month long adult-based season into smaller periods to encourage increased learning.

But the progression to seven v seven and nine v nine to allow children to play on appropriate-sized pitches and goals is already practiced in Cambridgeshire.

The changes, which will be phased in for the 2014-15 season, were formulated after an extensive two-year programme of 138 consultation roadshows, including one in Cambridgeshire last June.

Chris Pringle, Cambs FA's chief executive officer, said: "The new pathway builds perfectly on work already under way in Cambridgeshire."

"Our 9v9 leagues for children aged 10 to 12 have now completed three successful seasons and our Age Appropriate & Youth Module Coaching courses are increasingly popular. We've been trailblazing on the formats as we've had 9v9 up to under-12s anyway."

"We're quite proud with what we've achieved so far but we have a long way to go."

"The perception will be the change in competition structure, that will be the departure from what feels like the traditional season.

"We also welcome the FA's announcement of £1.5 million ring-fenced investment to support clubs' purchasing the smaller sized goal posts through work with Sport England & the Football Foundation."

"This is a very timely announcement, considering that we have a fully-subscribed Youth Award Module 2 course taking place at our headquarters right now, and we are welcoming Gareth Southgate, the FA's head of elite development, to our Kershaw Premier League dinner on Friday."

London's calling for old-hand Maclean

CAROLINE Maclean will be adding to her wealth of Paralympic experience in London after being selected in Great Britain's wheelchair basketball squad.

Haverhill-based Maclean (pictured) is on a six-month sabbatical having swapped working at St Edmundsbury Borough Council for an intense training regime.

She was quietly confident of making the cut, and enjoys the idea of being the most experienced player in the camp having been part of the set-up since 1995.

"It's been really nice concentrating on training and basketball, rather than the stress of work," said Maclean, who will be an Olympic torchbearer in July.

"I do feel fitter and it's better not having to think about everything else."

"I've always worked hard – I've had to to keep up with the young girls!"

"My coach has always said they look at me as a leader as a lot of the girls come to me."

"It's nice they feel they can talk through their problems with me."

However, Maclean missed out on a medal at the BT Paralympic World Cup in Manchester last week, but Sarah Grady, the Stretham-based player who has also been named in the squad, believes they learned valuable lessons from tough games against Germany, USA and Australia.

Youngs happy as Haverhill battle through

SIMON Youngs feels Haverhill's first team are riding the crest of a wave as they protected their unbeaten Marshall Hatchick Two Counties Championship, Division One record with a 31-run win at Coggeshall.

Amit Gupta and Nigel Brunning put paid to the home side's hopes to leave Youngs buoyant after their dream start to the season.

Gupta (60) and Brunning (29), as well as 37 from Youngs, helped the away team to 195.

Coggeshall looked to be favourites as they got to 120 for 2 with 15 overs remaining, but Brunning bowled 17 overs of spin on the bounce and finished with 4 for 44. Gupta and Cambridge MCCU player Satyajit Satbhai both claimed a couple of wickets, and the hosts were bundled out for 164.

Youngs said: "We were under pressure for long periods but came through."

"We know at sometime things may not work out for us, but it won't be for lack of effort."

"If someone at the beginning of the season would have said to me that we would be unbeaten going into June I would have laughed."

"It's quite unbelievable what these boys are doing at the moment. There is an unbelievable desire within the club, from top to bottom, to do well."

■ Although a few catches went down, seconds' skipper Martyn Wilkins was still pleased as they beat Brightlingsea II by seven wickets in their Division Six encounter at Manor Road.

A side featuring six teenagers restricted Brightlingsea, one place above Haverhill in second, to 141 for 8 – Martyn Wilkins (1-39), Russell Davis (2-33), Dan Pass (1-24), the debut – making Callum Brunning (2-24) and James Boulton (2-19), as well as taking three catches, doing the damage.

In reply, Sam Hartshorn slammed 10 boundaries in his 44 and Ben Wilkins made an unbeaten 25 at No 3 as Haverhill eased to 142 for 3.

■ Skipper Steve Saville said he felt 10 years older after the second team scrambled a two-wicket win against Nowton in the Hunts County Bats Sunday League, Division Three.

Nowton were skittled for 116, Dan Pass (2-10) and Saville (2-17) holding them in check until Wilkins wiped out the tail with 4-13.

However, Haverhill lurched to 66 for 6, but a valuable 28 from Paul Spurling stopped the rot and Pass (25 not out) guided them home.

Saturday fixtures. Marshall Hatchick Two Counties Championship (1pm start) – Division One: Haverhill v Maldon. Division Six: Mildenhall IV v Haverhill II. Division 8W: Bury St Edmunds IV v Haverhill III.

■ After a poor start, Weston Colville recovered to post 111 all out against Waresley in Tucker Gardner Cambs and Hunts Premier League, Division Two with Paul Dean top-scoring on 21.

But despite a poor start themselves, Waresley recovered to win at 114 for 5.

■ Horseheath were condemned to defeat in Mr Cricket CCA Senior League, Division One by a James Mynott century. He scored 110 of their 267 for 6, but despite 70 from Gary Ellis, Horseheath were restricted to 190 for 9.
